

Cornell Eleven Meets First Defeat of Season

Penn. State Scores a Lucky Touchdown Against the Big Red Team.

[By Telegram to The Tribune.]
ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 14.—The Cornell team suffered defeat to-day at the hands of Penn. State by the score of 5 to 0. The visitors making the single tally as a result of a fumble on Cornell's 5-yard line.

The game was well played on both sides, although many injuries were sustained by Cornell, none of which are thought to be of serious nature. O'Rourke was the first victim, his weak shoulder being the injured spot and he was quickly followed off the field by Munns. Hawkins was the next man to suffer, and although he recovered sufficiently to rejoin the team in the last period he was again taken out before the game ended. O'Connor's good work was effectively stopped, and after several time-outs on Munk the big captain had to retire permanently from the field. Gayer was the only man retired in favor of a freshman, and once the game halted on account of White.

The coaches expected a victory, but were prepared for defeat, and are in no way discouraged. The team lacked a secondary defense, and interference has not been perfected, but the hard defensive training of the last week showed results in the fourth period, the only time when State was dangerous, and the advance in this case was a steady advance through Munk's position.

State kicked off to Cornell, but in the first few moments was able to get near enough to the Cornell goal line to try for a field goal. Frequent penalties followed on both sides, and the first quarter ended just after O'Rourke was hurt in a scrimmage. The ball went into play in the second quarter on Cornell's 20-yard mark, and the Red team held the visitors for downs. Smith fell back to the 5-yard line to punt, and Harlow blocked the kick; Engle recovered the ball on the 1-yard line and tripped over the goal line; Mauthe failed to kick goal.

With Munk out of the game in the second half, State directed the play through left tackle and substantial gains resulted. Toward the end of the quarter Hawkins fumbled at midfield and State kicked to Hill on the 28-yard line, from whom Mauthe stole the ball and crossed the line, but was brought back and the score not allowed.

Butler came on the field for the last period, but had a disorganized aggression to command; many hurts of the game were beginning to tell. Mauthe went through Krogstad for thirty yards in four plunges, landing on Cornell's 5-yard line, but the Red team formed an impenetrable wall and Butler fell behind the line for a punt to midfield, which carried the ball beyond the danger zone.

The line-up follows:

Penn. State (2).	Position.	Cornell (6).
Page	Left End	Evrych
Hanson	Left Tackle	Munk (captain)
Clark	Left Guard	O'Rourke
Engle	Center	White
Very (captain)	Right Guard	Munns
Miller	Right Tackle	Chapman
Boyd	Right End	Smith
Boyd	Left End	O'Connor
Mauthe	Left Tackle	Hawkins
		Hill

SAFETY WINS FOR HOPKINS

Southerners Make Little Progress Against Stevens Institute.

In a loosely played game of football at Castle Point yesterday the Johns Hopkins team barely managed to squeeze out a 2 to 0 victory over Stevens Institute. The lone score of the game occurred in the third quarter. With the ball in Stevens' possession on its 15-yard line the signal for a kick was given. The pass went high, the ball was fumbled and rolled in back of the Stevens goal line, where Henry, of Stevens, fell on it. This gave Hopkins two points.

The men on both teams felt the heat exceedingly, and in consequence the play was sluggish. At times excitement was furnished by the brilliant dodging of Henry, the tackles made by Burnham and the line backs by Gillet.

In the first half the teams played evenly, but in the second half the engineers backed six and several times threatened the Hopkins goal. Henry attempted a drop kick in the first period from the 25-yard line and the extreme side of the field. The ball soared between the poles, but about two feet under the cross-bar.

INDIANS BEAT GEORGETOWN.

Washington, Oct. 14.—The Carlisle Indians easily defeated Georgetown here to-day, 28 to 5. Blocking a punt and gaining possession of the ball on the Indians' 20-yard line, Georgetown was enabled to make its only score. Georgetown's defense was weak, and the offensive side was able to make only five first downs.

Results of College and School Football Games

The leading college football eleven, with one exception, had a much easier time yesterday than in the games the week before. Yale piled up 33 points against the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and Brown made the same score against Bowdoin. Princeton had little trouble in beating Colgate, while Harvard disposed of Williams by a score of 18 to 0. Cornell was the exception, the eleven from Ithaca going down to defeat before Pennsylvania State by a score of 5 to 0. Holy Cross forfeited a game to Dartmouth at 1 to 0, the actual score at the end of the third period being 6 to 0. The scores of the more important games follow:

PENN. AROUSED AT LAST

Plays Good Football and Beats Villanova Handily.

Philadelphia, Oct. 14.—The University of Pennsylvania football team won its last game of the preliminary season this afternoon, beating Villanova College by a score of 22 to 0.

The visitors did not make any serious opposition until the third quarter, when Pennsylvania sent in a good many substitutes. In the first quarter Pennsylvania scored two touchdowns, and added a third in the second quarter.

Pennsylvania's first touchdown came when Villanova lost the ball on a fumble on its 25-yard line. On three plays the Quakers carried the ball over, the score being made by Mercer on a thirty-five yard run. A few minutes later Harrington intercepted one of Villanova's forward passes and raced twenty-eight yards to the 20-yard line. From there Mercer went over on a forward pass for the second score.

In the third period Villanova had Pennsylvania's substitutes rattled with its forward passes. The ball was carried inside the 5-yard line twice by means of clever forward passes. The first time it was lost on a fumble, and the second time the Quakers held for downs.

Pennsylvania's third touchdown was the result of a blocked kick, which the Quakers recovered on Villanova's 7-yard line. From there it was taken over in two plays.

The fourth touchdown came in the last quarter. Pennsylvania had worked the ball to the 5-yard line, where Villanova held for downs. Barr caught the punt which followed, and dashed across the field for the score.

The line-up follows:
Pennsylvania (22). Position. Villanova (6).
Fisher L. E. ... McGinnis
Fisher L. E. ... McGinnis

Substitutes: Sprague for Fisher, Matton for Sprague, Keilley for Morris, Butler for Fisher, Ball for Wolfe, Nolan for Bell, Young for Jordet, Kennedy for Harrington, Keough for Merrett, Thompson for Fisher, Crane for Skelton, Peters for Fort, Carroll for Peters.
Touchdowns: Mercer (2), Marshall, Barr, Gormley.
Field goals: None.
Head linesman: Mr. Moffatt, Princeton. Time: Four periods of 10 minutes each.

TRINITY DEFEATS AMHERST

Makes Pair of Touchdowns and Field Goal in Easy Contest.

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 14.—Trinity found Amherst rather an easy opponent this afternoon, although the latter when hard pressed showed a good fighting spirit, once in the final period holding like a wall on its own three-foot line and getting the ball on downs. Trinity's goal was never in danger.

The score came through two touchdowns and a field goal. The latter a clean one from the 30-yard line. Trinity varied its plays with good judgment, but its forward passing, frequently tried, was successful but once. End running was a feature, several Trinity men being used in this.

Trinity (13). Position. Amherst (6).
Howell (captain) L. E. ... Cook
Kinney R. G. ... Grier
J. A. Moore R. T. ... Curry
Bleeker R. G. ... Chamberlain
Forman L. E. ... Grier
C. D. Howe L. E. ... Madigan
Abernethy L. E. ... Madigan
Collett R. T. ... McGay
Taylor L. E. ... C. Hubbard
Hudson R. T. ... C. Hubbard
Touchdowns: Ahearn, Hillson. Field goal: Kinney. Officials: Stewart, referee; Burke, Worcester, umpire; Lowe, Dartmouth, field judge; Freese, referee; J. Moore for Taylor. For Amherst: Butler for C. Hubbard, S. C. Hubbard for Whitman.

MAINE PLAYERS NO MATCH FOR PROVIDENCE TEAM.

[By Telegram to The Tribune.]
Providence, Oct. 14.—Superiority in every department of the game gave Brown a victory over Bowdoin by the score of 33 to 0 on Andrews Field to-day. In spite of reports that the Brownian squad had given evidence of a bad change in practice during the week, the team, which has not been scored on, played capital football, rarely failing to make consistent gains through the visitors' line and in general holding far better than earlier in the season.

Brown's only noteworthy weakness was a tendency to fumble, but quick recoveries usually gave the opposing team little chance to profit by errors.

The home eleven scored in the first three minutes of play, when straight football rushes carried the ball down to Bowdoin's 10-yard line and Sprackling went through the left of the line for a touchdown. The speedy quarterback was the particular star in the second period, when he got the ball on Bowdoin's 25-yard line and, dodging through a broken field, ran down seventy-five yards for a touchdown. A few minutes later he kicked a goal from the 25-yard line. Crowther, Brown's utility back, and Bean, who substituted at right half, brought off spectacular runs of fifty yards each for a score.

At no time was Bowdoin within striking distance of the Brown goal. The home team made five attempts to employ the forward pass, and gained in three tries for a total of forty-five yards. Once the pass failed utterly, and once it was intercepted by a Bowdoin player. The visitors attempted it but once, when the play failed.

Brown's tendency to resort to straight football tactics rather than to employ trick plays was noticeable, and Crowther, Bean and Tenney repeatedly made big gains through the opposition's defense.

The line-up follows:
Brown (33). Position. Bowdoin (6).
Kratz L. E. ... Woods
Guttsell L. G. ... Pratt
Mitchell R. T. ... Douglas
Goldberg R. G. ... Burns
Murphy R. T. ... Hinch
Ashleigh R. E. ... Hurley
Sprackling R. T. ... Dole
Marble L. E. ... Paulkner
Tenney R. E. ... Wedderill
Jones L. E. ... Kearns

BASEBALL IN THE GARDEN.

Knowing the great interest there is in the baseball series of the Giants and Athletics, arrangements have been made for the erection of a big electric scoreboard in Madison Square Garden on which every play can be followed. This board will be at the Garden every day throughout the series, and an announcer will furnish visitors with full information as to the plays. This board will be erected under the personal supervision of "Pete" Hurlst, the former umpire, and will be so simple that even a child can follow the plays as they are made.

ENGLEWOOD COUNTRY CLUB.

George Van Keuren led the field in Class A. of the club handicap at the Englewood Country Club yesterday, with a card of 50-25-75. There was a three cornered tie in the second division between W. S. White, Frank Enos and E. A. Tuttle, with cards of 36-22-74, 35-19-74 and 36-24-74 respectively. They will play off to-day.

YALE WHIPS VIRGINIANS

Rolls Up Thirty-three Points, Using Substitutes Freely.

VISITORS' TEAM WORK WEAK

Merritt Shows Poor Judgment When Replacing Captain Howe

—Avery's Play Brilliant.

[By Telegram to The Tribune.]
New Haven, Oct. 14.—Yale found Virginia Polytechnic Institute unexpectedly easy here to-day, and rolled up a score of 33 to 0 by the time of the final whistle. The Southerners in other years have given Yale a good game, but were powerless to-day to stop the Yale attack.

The visitors had the ball for very few minutes in the game, and then the Yale defense, except for an occasional gain, smothered the Virginia attack. Toward the end of the third period, when a series of Yale misplays by the substitutes gave Virginia the ball on the Yale 25-yard line, and the defense was really put to a test, it blocked two successive attempts by F. Legge to make a drop kick, and followed this by causing the Virginia backs losses of twenty-five and ten yards on two end runs. Thus Yale took possession of the ball on the 45-yard line.

The visitors were as heavy as Yale, but lacked the Eli team work. The compactness of the Yale team play gave it a power that split the Virginia team in all directions. The game was spectacular in the extreme. Long runs in broken fields were occurring constantly, all of the Yale backs participating. Captain Howe was especially brilliant, and his change of pace and dodging in a broken field were remarkable.

Long Runs Were Common.

Spalding and Anderson each circled the ends or outside tackles again and again for long runs. Reilly's plunging constantly netted substantial gains. The work of Avery at end proved that he is one of the finds of the Yale season. His alertness and speed were paralleled only by Captain Howe's best work.

Virginia could do nothing around the Yale ends. Anderson's work, while spectacular, was very faulty. His slowness in punting resulted in one effort being blocked for which he was instantly returning. Freeman entered the back field, and his secondary defensive work surpassed that of any Yale back. He punted well, and finally put the finishing touches to his play by making a beautiful 33-yard run for a touchdown. Merritt replaced Captain Howe at quarterback and showed up rather poorly. Captain Howe finally returning. Poss was sent in for the closing minutes, but had no chance to show his ability.

Merritt's poor judgment at one time almost forced Yale to make a safety. Lorie had replaced Ketcham at center, and was passing poorly. He tried to pass to Spalding for a punt in the third period on the Yale 25-yard line, and it was so poor Spalding fell on the ball for a 12-yard loss.

Where the Mistake Came.

Another poor pass, and Spalding was tackled on the Yale 2-yard line. As the Yale backs had been constantly gaining at least six yards, Merritt should have rushed the ball out of danger before punting. Spalding finally had to punt from far behind his goal line, and it went outside on the 17-yard line.

Matters looked most precarious, but like a flash the play changed. Derby fumbled for Freeman, and Bill Howe grabbed the ball and raced ninety-three yards for a touchdown. Several Virginia men started after him, but were soon left far behind. Yale showed nothing new in her plays. Once, when Merritt called off a new formation, one of the Yale backs stopped the play and the signal was changed.

The first score was made by Yale in three minutes. Starting from the 20-yard line, by steady plunging, one of the Yale backs averaged four to eight yards a play, with the exception of a 25-yard run by Spalding. A. Howe then scored on a play through center, and McDevitt kicked a goal.

On the next kick-off Anderson ran sixty-five yards, aided by beautiful interference, to the Virginia 25-yard line. Captain Howe then drop-kicked a neat field goal from the 40-yard line. On the next kick-off Reilly started to run, and punted the ball over the Virginians' heads. Avery grabbed the ball and went to the 5-yard line, but it was given to Virginia on her 40-yard line for interference.

Anderson Makes 65-Yard Run.

Howe ran the punt back twenty-five yards at the opening of the second period to the 24-yard line. Anderson scored after a series of long-distance plunges. Francis kicked the goal. The rest of the period was consumed in exchanging punts.

At the opening of the third period a poor pass to Freeman by Lorie resulted in a 12-yard loss. Another one to Spalding lost eleven yards. From behind his own goal line Spalding punted outside on the 12-yard line and on the next play W. Howe picked up a fumble and ran ninety-three yards for a touchdown. McDevitt kicked the goal.

The visitors played much better ball against the Yale substitutes, and outside of the work of Freeman and Francis, Yale's play was poor. F. Legge tried two drop plays for Virginia, both of which were blocked, and then Yale forced the visitors back from the 25-yard line to the 45-yard line.

Yale Regulars Return.

At the beginning of the fourth period some of the Yale regulars returned, and after several punts Yale obtained the ball on the Virginia 33-yard line, from which Freeman made a clever run of thirty-three yards for a touchdown. McDevitt kicked the goal.

Captain Gibbs, of Virginia, when asked what he thought of Northern football, said: "With Yale's regular team in the game it was the best exhibition of team work and individual play I have ever seen. The Yale rush line, when Captain Howe was playing, was the speediest and most powerful I have ever encountered. The play deteriorated when the subs entered."

The line-up follows:

Yale (33).	Position.	Virginia P. I. (6).
Avery	Left End	Hodgson
Scully	Left Tackle	Burres
Ketcham	Left Guard	Evans
McDevitt	Center	Gibbs
Perry	Right Guard	Schultz
W. Howe	Right Tackle	Leffevre
A. Howe	Right End	Berly
Reilly	Left End	F. Legge
Anderson	Left Guard	Robert

Substitutes: Yale—Davis for Avery, Manning for Scully, Childs and Parker for Avery, Lorie for Ketcham, Childs for McDevitt, Warren for Perry, Camp for W. Howe, Merritt for A. Howe, A. Howe for Merritt, Foss for A. Howe, Anderson for Reilly, Freeman for Scully, Freeman and Hughes for Leffevre, Wyatt for Evans Vaughan for Hodgson, Liffie and W. Legge for Derby, W. Legge for F. Legge, F. Legge for W. Legge.

Touchdowns: A. Howe, Anderson (2), W. Howe. Goals from touchdowns: McDevitt (4), Francis. Goal from field: A. Howe, Berly, Fultz, Simpson, Umpire: Williams, University of Pennsylvania. Field judge: Godcharles, Lafayette. Linesman: Fisher, Columbia. Time—12 and 11 minute periods.

Holy Cross Forfeits Game

Leaves Dartmouth Gridiron to Catch Train When Six Points Behind the Green.

[By Telegram to The Tribune.]
Hanover, N. H., Oct. 14.—"Bobby" Hogsett won the game to-day for Dartmouth from Holy Cross by kicking two goals from field. The score at the end of the third period was 6 to 0, but then the Holy Cross coach withdrew his team from the field to catch a train, and the referee declared the game forfeited to Dartmouth by the score of 1 to 0.

Dartmouth played a good game, and, although the ball was in Dartmouth's territory most of the time, yet its goal was only once in danger. Two forward passes brought the ball to Dartmouth's 25-yard line, but Holy Cross failed under stress and fumbled the ball. Holy Cross made its biggest gains by rushing the famous Minnesota shift tackle play. Dartmouth got through to nail this play, but missed tackle after tackle. Several end run gains would have been losses had the tackling been sure.

Near the close of the first period McCabe punted to Hogsett, who ran the ball back twenty yards. Hogsett then punted to Whalen, the Holy Cross quarterback, who fumbled. Elcock was through like a dash to get the ball on Holy Cross's 25-yard line. Here the period closed.

At the beginning of the next period Hogsett drop kicked for the first score. The

TESTIMONIAL FOR THE GIANTS.

A testimonial in honor of the permanent winning Giants will be held at the New York Theatre this evening under the patronage of the "Pat" Casey and William Fox. It was announced last night that many well known stars of the stage would appear. It was also announced that the committee in charge of the affair, of which Timothy D. Sullivan is chairman, had a surprise in store for John J. McFarlane, the Giants' manager. An effort will also be made to have all the players there.

THE TURNING POINT IN PLAYER-PIANOS

The VIRTUOLO

THE INSTINCTIVE PLAYER-PIANO

In the Virtuolo the first real turning point in player-piano invention has been reached.

In playing it you produce musical expression to suit your mood and fancy, but you don't have to put your mind on any means to get such expression. You use the Virtuolo's means unconsciously and feel that you are playing under inspiration.

In other words, the Virtuolo dispels the final objection the music loving public has to player-pianos. No other player-piano permits Instinctive Playing.

The reason you are able to put expression into your playing naturally and without effort lies in the perfection of the Virtuolo's finely sensitive mechanisms and the simplification of its control.

We call these mechanisms the Virtuolo "air muscle fingers," because their sensitiveness makes them a real substitute for human fingers playing on the keys. They are so keenly responsive that they produce any effect in music that you desire the instant you send them your instinctive signal through pedals, buttons or tempo lever.

The new simplified control on the Virtuolo brings in another entirely new feature. Confusing, awkward levers have been replaced with simple buttons which are in such close relation to the "air muscle fingers" that the whole action of both player and piano seems to be one instrument, directly responsive to your will. The new Accolo buttons make it possible for you to emphasize or accent any note in the music the instant you feel the inspiration to do so.

Call at our wholesale offices and see the Virtuolo. Play it yourself, and realize the importance of its new features. If you cannot come to the store, phone or write us and we will send a Virtuolo to your home on free trial, without any obligations on your part.

The Daven-o Is Entirely Different From Other Davenport Beds

While the Daven-o is a beautiful piece of Furniture which will ornament any home, it is its utility and simplicity which commend it to so many who appreciate its double use.

AS A DAVENPORT.
THE DAVEN-O is an artistic piece of furniture that can be used twenty-four (24) hours a day—as a settee or couch to sit or lie on during the day and at night a regular full sized bed.

You must see it to appreciate it. Do not confuse the DAVEN-O with the various folding beds on the market that take up valuable space during the day and have the appearance of what they are—folding beds—or the makeshift davenport bed that is so generally offered for sale.

The DAVEN-O is made in many styles and periods and a large variety of woods and finishes and can be covered in any upholstery to match other furniture.

HOW THE DAVEN-O IS DIFFERENT

1. From all appearance you would think it a plain davenport; it has no earmarks of the bed davenport.
2. You have a separate bed spring the same as with any ordinary bed.
3. You sleep on a separate full size mattress that is removable, and not on the pad or the upholstery, as you do on all other makes.
4. The bed spring and mattress rest on a metal bedstead, as with the ordinary bed.
5. You can make up the bed in the morning the same as with any regular bed, which makes it ready for instant use at all times.
6. The upholstery of back or seat of the DAVEN-O is never used in connection with the bed, which is separate and independent.
